Pre-Search Findings

Objective: Before you start reading complex sources, it's always a good idea to start by getting an overview of your topic. This will inform your research and help think of other ways to find the information you need.

Directions: Start by using InstaGrok (www.instagrok.com). At the top left corner of InstaGrok's home page, enter your assigned topic and select "Grok." This will generate a concept map for you to navigate. As you select and read the various information, record your findings in the chart below. Be sure to watch any videos that may be available and explore website links. REMEMBER, the sources provided by InstaGrok are not academic and cannot be used for your formal research task.
